Join a meeting about the risks from the Critical Energy Infrastructure Hub with Multnomah County Commissioners Sharon Meieran and Susheela Jayapal

Fuel storage tanks located along Highway 30 and the Willamette River pose a major threat to human health and the environment in the event of an earthquake, and are a liability as we continue to experience local impacts from climate change.

Join Multnomah County Commissioners

Sharon Meieran and Susheela Jayapal

to explore the risks from the Critical Energy Infrastructure Hub, and learn about potential solutions.

Monday, October 14

6:30 p.m. - 8 p.m.
