Executive Summary

The Business Applications and Technology (BAT) unit supports the implementation and use of information systems. The program uses data reporting tools to increase the effectiveness of staff and improve the delivery of services to internal customers, public safety partners, and the justice-involved individuals served.

Program Summary

The BAT unit provides oversight for evaluation, selection, purchase and implementation of effective, innovative technology solutions. BAT collaborates with partner agencies from local, state, and federal governments as well as private service providers in order to develop system-wide technology solutions for data sharing. Team members of BAT work to foster the use and understanding of data management and reports for decision-making and facilitate a variety of information system trainings that enhance the Department of Community Justice's (DCJ) operations.

This program offer contains services provided by the County's Information Technology organization, which facilitate support for information needs of DCJ, system partners, and the public. This includes the development, maintenance, on-going support of information systems to support business needs, easy access to data, purchase/replacement of computer equipment, software, and technology tools.

BAT contributes to countywide priorities by managing DCJ's participation in the Service Coordination Portal Engine (SCoPE) project, including maintaining user access, performing quarterly system audits, and other data steward activities. SCoPE is a multi-departmental data sharing application that leverages existing sources of service information. The goal is to allow providers to see services other departments are offering common clients. BAT is also involved with the Paperless File Project: a DCJ initiative to eliminate paper client files, implement use of electronic files in Content Manager, and digitize work processes to facilitate sustainable business practices and enhance remote work capability. BAT also provides technological support as an increased number of employees work remotely.

Through innovative technological solutions and wise technology investments, the department is better equipped to promote community safety and reduce criminal activity. This unit demonstrates effective agency collaboration and fiscal responsibility.

Executive Summary

The Department of Community Justice (DCJ) Victim and Survivor Services (VSS) collaborates with public safety agencies and community partners as well as DCJ staff to develop a more coordinated system response to crime victims/survivors in Multnomah County. VSS provides survivor-centered consultation on policy and procedures; ensures crime victim's rights are upheld and integrated into supervision practices; educates DCJ staff and community partners around victim rights and best practices for supporting victims/survivors; collaborates with partners to engage in system change that is trauma informed, survivor-led and consistent with best practices; and provides advocacy and support to people who have experienced harm.

Program Summary

In FY 2021 VSS updated their strategic plan to more closely align services with equity, trauma informed and survivor led approaches. Many of the goals and activities put forth in this plan came directly out of a department wide strength and needs assessment. This includes establishing two culturally specific caseloads to serve Black, African American and Latinx survivors. Services offered by VSU include:

Notification: Crime victims' legal rights are guaranteed by Oregon law, yet they are often unaware of these rights. Notification is the most important - if a victim is not given notice of the time and place of a sentencing hearing, there is little chance that they will ever have the opportunity to be heard. In cases of domestic violence and stalking, notification of a justice-involved individual's (JII) release is more than a matter of interest, it is sometimes a matter of life and death.

Advocacy: Advocates support survivors through safety planning; crisis response; emotional support; community referrals; system information and navigation; accessing emergency funds; and court accompaniment. Advocates serve as a critical piece of support to survivors as they navigate a confusing and often re-traumatizing criminal justice system that was not built with their needs in mind. DCJ Advocates are unique in that once a JII is on supervision they can support the survivor through the entire system. Survivor safety is often in jeopardy after a JII is sentenced. DCJ Advocates are the only system-based advocates that can help them access community resources, safety plan, and provide support to the healing process.

Victim and Survivor Services Fund: This fund helps ease financial burdens survivors often face due to the victimization they experience by JIIs and provide temporary emergency assistance that bridge the gap to self-sufficiency or longer term support from other agencies, or are related to an immediate safety concern.

Training and Education: VSS provides a wide variety of trainings and consultations to partners including: victim rights, working with survivors, trauma informed care, sex trafficking, and domestic violence.

Performance Measures

Measure Type	Primary Measure	FY21 Actual	FY22 Budgeted	FY22 Estimate	FY23 Offer
Output	Number of initial contacts with victims of probation cases	2,022	2,000	2,000	2,000
Outcome	Monthly average victims served through victim advocacy	187	70	150	150
Outcome	Number of crime victims registering for ongoing notifications	1014	500	600	600

Performance Measures Descriptions

In FY 2021 monthly average victims/survivors served increased by 63%, from 70.5 per month to 187 per month. The COVID-19 pandemic has exacerbated issues that survivors face in the aftermath of crime and violence. In the past two years the department has improved how information is shared to victims/survivors which has allowed them to be more aware of their rights. It is predicted the pandemic will have long-term ripple effects that will continue to impact service levels with VSS.

Executive Summary

The purpose of the Research & Planning (RAP) unit is to collect, analyze, interpret, and disseminate information regarding the characteristics, activities, operations, and policies of the Department of Community Justice (DCJ). RAP also uses external funding to evaluate innovative approaches to supervision. This information is used by many stakeholders for operational decision-making, policy formulation, mandatory reporting, and quality assurance and improvement.

Program Summary

The RAP unit supports the data and analysis needs of the three department divisions. These analyses promote effective resource management and the ability to track race and ethnicity data to address practices that disproportionately impact Black, Indigenous, and/or People of Color (BIPOC) justice-involved individuals. The unit is responsible for designing and implementing a system of interactive data monitoring dashboards as part of the County's Tableau Software initiative. The unit also conducts complex data analyses involving multivariate modeling and longitudinal time trend analyses.

In addition to quantitative analyses, RAP develops qualitative research protocols for conducting individual interviews and focus groups and for measuring fidelity of programs. This is an important practice for soliciting valuable feedback from staff, justice-involved individuals, victims of crime/survivors of violence, and community partners regarding DCJ practices and needed quality improvements. In FY 2021, RAP conducted surveys and interviews to track how DCJ responded to COVID-19 and the impact the pandemic had on staff and justice-involved individuals. The unit promotes the adoption of evidence-based practices through identification and dissemination of emerging best practices. RAP also develops grant applications for service enhancements and research projects. When DCJ receives federal or state grants or contracts, RAP is responsible for developing and implementing sound methodologies, completing reports required by the funders, conducting descriptive, multivariate, and other outcome analyses, and preparing reports and presentations to disseminate the results internally, locally, and nationally.

The unit is a contracted data and evaluation resource for local jurisdictions without their own research team. Within the County, RAP provides ongoing technical assistance to several countywide data collaboratives and participates in work groups with other criminal justice analysts to help leverage DCJ data and resources for maximum impact on the local public safety system.

Executive Summary

This program offer will fund a Data Analyst to support and assist the Department of Community Justice (DCJ) by providing data for monthly, quarterly, and yearly legislative requirements, creating a racial/ethnic disparities portfolio, and performing data requests that are presented at national, state, county, and city levels to understand and address service provision across DCJ promoting accountability to the vision, mission, and stewardship of county funding. The addition of this position would increase DCJ's ability to respond with evidence-based practices and data driven decisions.

Program Summary

The purpose of the Research & Planning (RAP) unit is to collect, analyze, interpret, and disseminate information regarding the characteristics, activities, operations, and policies of the Department of Community Justice (DCJ). This information is used by many stakeholders for operational decision-making, policy formulation, mandatory reporting, quality assurance and improvement, innovations, and release to the general public. These analyses promote effective resource management and the ability to track race and ethnicity data to address practices that disproportionately impact Black, Indigenous, and/or People of Color (BIPOC) justice-involved individuals. The unit is responsible for designing and implementing a system of interactive data monitoring dashboards as part of the County's Tableau Software initiative. The unit also conducts complex data analyses involving multivariate modeling and longitudinal time trend analyses.

The elimination of this position was a result of previous budget constraints and, has led to the redistribution of yearly, quarterly, and monthly juvenile legislative reporting requirements to other members of the unit. This delayed implementation of racial/ethnic disparities dashboards; and created barriers for major state required evaluations (Senate Bill 1008). This position would further the goals of the Director's Office, Juvenile Services Division, and Adult Services Division. As such, this position would be dedicated to building racial/ethnic disparity dashboards for all three divisions, helping with budget requirements, performing essential emergent data requests, and supporting major required evaluation projects (such as Senate Bill 1008, recidivism reports, and restorative justice evaluations). This position would support the Work Equity Strategic Plan and other important county and departmental initiatives.

The addition of this position will allow DCJ to identify racial disparities in real time, respond, and re-evaluate, examine DCJ's services through an evidence based lens, and promote data driven decision-making. Finally, this position would allow for the ability to collaboratively work with other county departments and social service agencies in their evidence based and community based research activities.

Executive Summary

The Department of Community Justice (DCJ) Human Resources (HR) unit facilitates recruiting, hiring, training, and assists with the support of the regular, on-call, and temporary employees. DCJ HR and training consultants work closely with both internal and external customers to design responsive programs and services to promote County Core Competencies. HR staff work with management and members of three unions to promote effective communication and problem solving. The HR unit gives employees the tools they need to do their job and strengthens manager performance.

Program Summary

The HR unit supports the department's regular, temporary, and on-call employees. This includes three union contracts and employees assigned to 24-hour operations in Juvenile Detention and the Multnomah County Justice Center. HR will continue to:

- 1) Assess diverse organizational and customer (employee) needs to provide strategic direction as well as succession and workforce planning through active participation on management teams;
- 2) Consult with managers and employees as well as manage employee and labor relations issues, that include performance management, investigations, discipline and grievances, recruitment, and selection of a highly qualified and diverse workforce, personnel records, leave administration, layoffs and bumping, and compliance with County Personnel Rules, Department Work Rules, and union contracts;
- 3) Ensure compliance with all laws, rules, regulations, policies, and labor agreements so liability and costs of unlawful employment actions are reduced or eliminated.

The HR unit is tasked with developing and implementing HR initiatives with Central Human Resources and Labor Relations, coordinating internal and external employee investigations, procedures, and training. The HR unit also plays an important role in the implementation of goals and activities in the Workforce Equity Strategic Plan.

The HR unit has played an instrumental role in responding to the COVID-19 pandemic. The unit has been a resource for the department in addressing staffing issues and providing contract tracing assistance.

Executive Summary

Providing justice-involved adults with alcohol and substance abuse treatment along with wraparound services is an effective strategy to reduce re-offense, especially for individuals classified as high risk. This includes intensive alcohol and substance abuse outpatient treatment, which addresses major criminal risk factors and are a necessary correctional intervention for reducing recidivism. Other services such as vocational assistance, mentoring, and housing are also essential in promoting client success.

Program Summary

This program offer supports a recovery system of care which includes comprehensive recovery support, including stable and substance free housing, peer mentors, medication assisted treatment, and vocational assistance. A recovery system of care better supports long-term behavior change than treatment alone. Alcohol and substance abuse treatment services are provided through contracts with non-profit providers who are also equipped to respond to culturally-specific needs and address criminal risk factors. Several providers offer culturally and gender responsive specific services.

Most clinical services previously supported by the Department of Community Justice's (DCJ) budget can now be reimbursed by insurance due to the expansion of Medicaid and increased access to private insurance. DCJ will continue to provide funding for clinical services for individuals eligible for treatment who do not have insurance. In addition, funding is provided to support treatment interventions for criminal risk factors such as antisocial thoughts, attitudes, antisocial peers, impulsivity, poor problem solving skills and anger management. Effective interventions for adults should integrate addictions treatment with treatment for criminality. Without treatment, justice-involved adults are more likely to re-offend and/or to occupy expensive jail beds. Treatment has been proven to be effective at reducing recidivism both in Oregon and nationally.

Executive Summary

Residential treatment is an essential part of the alcohol and substance abuse treatment continuum that impacts public safety. The long-term collateral costs of re-arrest, re-incarceration, and inadvertent consequences for children of justice-involved adults significantly decline when individuals are successful in residential treatment.

Program Summary

This program offer supports residential alcohol and substance abuse treatment for high risk adults and provides sanction options other than jail for individuals needing treatment. This includes beds that serve high risk adults in a facility specialized in treating males involved with the criminal justice system. The remaining beds for men are located in residential facilities within the community. Some of these beds are reserved for specific populations (e.g., justice-involved adults convicted of sex crimes, East County property offenses). Several providers offer culturally and gender responsive treatment services. These programs also provide residential alcohol and substance abuse treatment beds for high risk female adults and beds for dependent children. The current community treatment providers have been in existence for over 20 years and work collaboratively with the Department of Community Justice (DCJ) to treat adults with addictions and criminality. These programs use evidence-based practices to address addiction, mental and behavioral health issues, parenting skills, healthy relationship dynamics, criminality, employment resources, and relapse prevention counseling. Regular communication and coordination with a Parole-Probation Officer (PPO) is maintained to develop and implement treatment and supervision plans.

Most clinical services previously supported by DCJ's budget can now be reimbursed by insurance due to the expansion of Medicaid and increased access to private insurance. DCJ will continue to provide funding for clinical services for adults eligible for treatment who do not have insurance. In addition, funding is provided to support room and board costs not covered by Medicaid for all DCJ clients served by contracted providers. The National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA) reports that alcohol and substance abuse treatment is cost effective in reducing the risk factors associated with addiction and bringing about cost savings associated with health care, crime and incarceration. NIDA also reports that gender responsive programs may be more effective for female adults, especially those with trauma and abuse in their background (2006).

Executive Summary

The Department of Community Justice (DCJ) Adult Services Management (ASM) provides leadership and direction for the supervision of approximately 9,000 justice-involved adults in the community annually. It is responsible for implementing evidence-based practices, managing risk, creating service standards, coordinating with public safety partners and ensuring the safety of department staff who supervise justice-involved adults.

Program Summary

Adult Services Division (ASD) leadership is responsible for regulating policy, maintaining quality services and implementing evidence-based and core correctional practices that reduce crime and change behavior. They partner with other public safety representatives and community stakeholders through the Local Public Safety Coordinating Council, Criminal Justice Advisory Council, Oregon Association of Community Corrections Directors, and Oregon Department of Corrections (DOC). This program offer supports critical oversight and leadership for adult services staff to achieve reductions in recidivism and reduce long held disparities in the criminal justice system. DCJ's priority is to focus resources on the highest risk and highest need individuals and is utilizing current and evidence-based assessment tools that; guide supervision by identifying criminogenic risk and need factors, and develop case plans that reduce risk to re-offend.

ASD works with the Research and Planning unit to track and analyze race and ethnicity data to address practices that disproportionately impacts Black, Indigenous, and/or People of Color (BIPOC) justice-involved individuals. Rapport and relationship building, along with structured directions are key factors to reducing recidivism (Andrews & Bonta, 2006, 2010a, 2010b; Bonta et al., 2011; Robinson, VanBenschoten, Alexander & Lowenkamp, 2011; Trotter, 2013).

ASD will continue to focus on maintaining evidence-based practices including specialized assessment tools and cognitive behavioral intervention programming, utilizing case management strategies that provide individuals the opportunity to change by addressing factors that research has shown to reduce criminal behavior, including trauma informed care, and by adding an equity focus and understanding of brain development to support effective supervision (Blair & Raver, 2016; Curry-Stevens, Reyes, & Coalition of Communities of Color, 2014; Ghandnoosh, 2014; Knight, 2018; Mears, Cochran, & Lindsey, 2016; Moreland-Capua, 2019; National Institute of Corrections, 2017; Reavis, Looman, Franco, & Rojas, 2013).

Outcome	Percent of adults convicted of misd. or felony within 1 year of supervision start date	7%	18%	7%	7%

Performance Measures Descriptions

Measure 1: Number of adults supervised annually has gone down. There has been a decrease in felony population year over year due to a number of reasons including COVID-19 impacting the Courts and law enforcement, and the implementation of Ballot Measure 110, etc.

Executive Summary

This program offer will fund enhanced security at the East Campus by adding a second Security Guard for internal building security. The East Campus location has experienced several events in the last several years, such as arson, vehicle break-ins, objects thrown at the building and a destructive device dropped off at the campus. The goal of adding additional security is to reduce the likelihood of these threats and create a safe business environment for Department of Community Justice (DCJ) clients and staff.

Program Summary

This addition allows for increased security presence in the lobby at East Campus during regular business hours. It creates a consistent security presence at East Campus. The presence of security is purposeful and distinct in providing immediate action in a multitude of possible scenarios. Security's role is to cultivate situational awareness, de-escalate situations and maintain overall safety and security for DCJ clients and staff. Staff experience of safety also helps to maintain productivity as the department works to achieve the vision of community safety through positive change.

Executive Summary

The Adult Recognizance (Recog) unit and Pretrial Services Program (PSP) unit both perform functions necessary for public safety and the effective operation of the local justice system. The Recog and Pretrial units allow for scarce jail beds to be reserved for higher risk justice-involved adults by using a validated risk instrument to assess a defendant's probability to appear in court or reoffend and conduct interviews and assessments to determine release eligibility.

Program Summary

The Recog unit is a 24/7 program housed at the Multnomah County Detention Center. Recog staff have the knowledge, expertise, and tools necessary to make preliminary decisions in the best interest of the community. The program interviews defendants who have a pending Multnomah County charge, which in turn provides a comprehensive, objective, and valid system for release decisions based on victim and community safety along with the defendant's flight risk. The screening tool used to guide Recog staff has been validated by an independent research group and the results of that study have been approved by the Community Justice Advisory Council. In addition to evaluating the likelihood of appearing in court and risk for committing a new crime, Recog staff assist the court with release decisions for defendants that are ineligible for release by Recog staff. The unit serves as a 24-hour link between law enforcement agencies and Parole-Probation Officers (PPO), by coordinating the process of holding parole and probation violators in jail and providing after-hours information on high risk individuals who are on electronic monitoring.

The primary mission of the PSP unit is to evaluate the risk of releasing defendants prior to trial, to monitor defendants in the community, and to ensure that defendants attend court hearings and not commit new crimes. PSP staff use evidence-based criteria during their investigations to determine whether or not a defendant is likely to attend subsequent court hearings or whether they pose a safety risk to the community. The results of these investigations are presented back to the Court when necessary. When the defendant is released under PSP supervision, the assigned case manager monitors the defendant's behavior and actions, which is then reported to the Court.

The Recog and PSP units have a significant role in the MacArthur Safety and Justice Challenge, which is currently creating strategies that address the main drivers leading people to be placed in local jail, including practices that have a disparate impact on Black, Indigenous and/or People of Color (BIPOC), low-income communities, and people struggling with behavioral health and substance abuse issues.

Executive Summary

The Department of Community Justice (DCJ) is statutorily and legislatively mandated to provide services to local control justice-involved individuals in order to carry out the Local Supervisory Authority (LSA) functions. The Local Control Release unit (LC) is instrumental in providing all LSA functions including, but not limited to investigations, issuance of warrants, release planning, and active supervision.

Program Summary

The Local Control Release unit supervises justice-involved individuals who are sentenced to a prison term of 12 months or less in a local jail. Working with the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office, the LC Release unit has the legal authority to issue arrest warrants and has jurisdiction over the supervision conditions for these justice-involved individuals. LC Release staff develop release plans and monitor adults with community-based sanctions (substance abuse treatment programs) upon the completion of their incarceration. When possible, LC Release staff attempt to reduce incarceration time by utilizing alternative options to jail, such as residential treatment.

The LC Release unit is instrumental in holding justice-involved individuals accountable by providing fair and objective investigations and parole hearings, incarceration when appropriate, and providing supervision. Through collaboration with the Sheriff's Office, the Oregon State Board of Parole, treatment providers, and the community, this unit provides effective interventions and helps to ensure efficient operations of the local justice system.

Performance Measures

Measure Type	Primary Measure	FY21 Actual	FY22 Budgeted	FY22 Estimate	FY23 Offer
Output	Number of release plans completed	249	500	250	250
Outcome	Percent of individuals convicted of misd. or felony within 1 year of release date from local control	22%	30%	20%	20%

Performance Measures Descriptions

COVID-19 impacted local control in the "domino-effect" of restrictions on law enforcement arrest, jail capacity, home visits, District Attorney's Office, and the Judiciary. This decreased arrests, custody holds, warrants, sanctions, indictments, and court proceedings.

Executive Summary

The Violation Hearings unit is instrumental in holding justice-involved individuals (JIIs) accountable by providing fair and objective investigations and probation/post-prison hearings, incarceration when appropriate and actively supervising justice-involved individuals. Through collaboration with the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office, the Oregon State Board of Parole, DA's Office, Defense Bar, treatment providers, and the community, this unit provides effective interventions and helps to ensure necessary due process and efficient operations of the local justice system.

Program Summary

Centralizing the hearings/violation processes helps to ensure timely and equitable resolutions. If during supervision, a Parole-Probation Officer (PPO) determines that a justice-involved individual has violated their conditions of supervision, the PPO submits required written documents and a violation hearing is arranged through the Violations Hearings unit. This unit consists of 3 types of hearings or processes:

1. Hearings Officers (HO) conduct local parole/post-prison hearings and determine consequences for the adults found in violation of supervision. HOs are able to order jail releases, recommend revocations of adults and/or make other recommendations that are consistent with evidence-based practices. In addition, the unit provides support within the Justice Center for the purposes of testimony and streamlining DCJ representation on probation violation matters before the court.
2. A centralized PPO covers many Court Probation Violation hearings that are conducted in the Multnomah County Justice Center.
3. A centralized PPO that conducts all in-custody administrative sanctions within the custody setting that are under 30 days and not contested.

Performance Measures

Measure Type	Primary Measure	FY21 Actual	FY22 Budgeted	FY22 Estimate	FY23 Offer
Output	Number of hearings completed by hearings officers	359	540	359	359
Outcome	Percent of hearings completed by hearings officers outside of Multnomah County	6%	18%	6%	6%

Performance Measures Descriptions

Measure 1: In FY 2022, due to the COVID-19 pandemic procedural changes were made for JIIs which resulted in fewer arrests and sanctions. These changes had a direct impact on the Hearings Officer's workload. Less JIIs in custody for PPS/Parole violations equated to fewer hearings.

Executive Summary

The Assessment and Referral Center (ARC) combines in-custody interviews, pre-release field investigations, intakes (post-prison and probation), orientations, and specialized services, for individuals released from state and local custody. Enhanced transition services provided at the ARC reduce duplication of efforts and increase the amount of screenings, referrals, and re-entry services available when an individual begins supervision (post-prison or probation). The Health Assessment Team ensures interventions addressing criminogenic factors and social determinants of health are delivered effectively.

Program Summary

The ARC staff meets with justice-involved individuals (JIIs) upon sentencing to probation or after their release from incarceration. These individuals are considered high risk to re-offend, and ARC determines which strategies, supports, and services are most appropriate to reduce the risk of recidivism. Tailored referrals and re-entry services reduce re-offending and increase engagement. Coordinated and immediate service delivery before and after release addresses the individual's needs, including providing proper supports to those with special needs, and enables effective interventions targeting criminogenic factors.

The ARC actively works to build partnerships with community based services and organizations, as well as other Multnomah County departments to provide the continuum of care that is needed for newly sentenced, and recently released individuals, including housing, health assessments, treatment access, case coordination, and family engagement. ARC has taken initiatives to create trauma-informed practices, and the centralization of DCJ's intake and pre-release field investigations help to ensure an equitable process for justice-involved individuals who are placed on community supervision.

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted the operations of this program in FY 2021. Staff met with the majority of justice-involved individuals via telephone without impacting the rate of JIIs showing for their intake. In person intakes resumed in October 2021 and will continue in FY 2022 as long as it remains safe to do so.

Performance Measures

Outcome	Percent of individuals who report as ordered during the first thirty days from their release from prison	93%	95%	95%	95%

Performance Measures Descriptions

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted post-prison intakes due to a significant increase in the Governor commuting sentences. Probation intakes were impacted due to COVID-19 restrictions on law enforcement, District Attorney's Office, and the Judiciary. This decreased indictments and court proceedings. Post-prison releases and individuals sentenced to probation were directed to call in for their intakes as COVID-19 restrictions forced the closure of DCJ offices to the public.

Executive Summary

Justice Reinvestment is a nationwide initiative that seeks to reduce prison growth while improving public safety. Multnomah County Justice Reinvestment (MCJRP) is a direct result of House Bill 3194. Locally this was accomplished by reducing spending on prison in order to reinvest savings in evidence-based strategies at the county level. The program is designed to assess justice-involved individuals (JIIs) prior to sentencing, and provide a continuum of community based services, programs, and sanctions thereby, decreasing the County's utilization of imprisonment in Department of Corrections (DOC) institutions while protecting public safety, holding individuals accountable, and helping to change their behavior.

Program Summary

The District Attorney's Office identifies JIIs facing a prison term based on established eligibility requirements. MCJRP includes funding for the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office to expedite assessments in jail; for the court and the defense to assist with case coordination and scheduling; a deputy district attorney to facilitate eligibility determination and case management; additional staff at DCJ to carry out the program (assessment, report writing, and supervision); and 10% of funding to a community non-profits working with crime victims.

DCJ conducts an objective assessment of criminal risk and makes recommendations for how the individual could be supervised in the community. This report is provided to the defense, prosecution, and court to aid them in making informed sentencing decisions. For those JIIs who are sentenced to probation rather than prison, DCJ provides intensive supervision based on individualized case plans driven by risk and needs assessments along with referrals to treatment and other community resources.

This program offer also supports the ongoing Reentry Enhancement Coordination program and Short Term Trans Leave, evidence-based addictions treatment program for people leaving prison, which includes treatment, housing, mentoring, parenting, and employment assistance. For FY 2021-2023, in addition to Formula Grant, MCJRP has also secured Supplemental Grant through the Criminal Justice Commission (CJC), which addresses special populations (young men of color, women and young JIIs) and second sentence programs, and additional full or partial positions to include a Deputy District Attorney, a District Attorney, Research Analyst, IT Development, Metro Public Defender Case Manager and the Multnomah Defenders Inc. Social Worker.

Executive Summary

Department of Community Justice (DCJ) adheres to evidence-based risk principles to determine supervision levels ensuring resources are targeted to the highest risk. Multnomah County receives a large number of high risk individuals and is still able to produce lower recidivism rates for these cases compared to the statewide average. The Reduced Supervision model takes care not to bring justice-involved individuals (JIIs) who are low risk deeper into the criminal justice system, provides minimal supervision, and encourages increased self-sufficiency.

Program Summary

High risk supervision uses evidence-based strategies to identify criminogenic risk factors to supervise high risk individuals on probation and parole. DCJ utilizes the Level of Service/Case Management Inventory (LS/CMI), the Women’s Risk Need Assessment (WRNA) and the Public Safety Checklist (PSC) assessment tools to measure the risks and needs of adults. The LS/CMI is also a fully functioning case management tool that provides a summary of the individual’s static and dynamic criminogenic risk and need factors, as well as special responsivity considerations to be deployed during supervision. The WRNA is a gender responsive risk assessment created with justice-involved women’s social and psychological needs in mind. The PSC provides a quick, objective, validated assessment of the probability an individual will be re-convicted of a felony or rearrested for a person or property offense based on specific characteristics.

DCJ continues to use Effective Practices in Community Supervision (EPICS), an evidence-based case management model. With EPICS, Parole-Probation Officers (PPO) follow a structured approach to their interactions with their clients, allowing PPOs to effectively target the criminogenic needs using cognitive behavioral interventions for high risk individuals. PPOs also integrate trauma-informed practices and brain science into their daily work and utilize data to track disparities.

PPOs reinforce law-abiding behavior and link clients to treatment, employment and other services. Supervision is conducted through: a) home and office visits; b) contacts with family; c) correspondence with community members and treatment providers; and d) collaboration with law enforcement agencies.

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted operations beginning in March 2020. PPOs had limited in-person visits to address immediate public safety concerns and address high risk behaviors. Field visits resumed in February 2021 and office visits in October 2021, with staff taking the necessary safety precautions. PPOs are meeting clients face-to-face on a regular basis and have resumed all case management practices.

Executive Summary

The Mental Health Unit (MHU) provides supervision services for probation, parole, and post-prison individuals who have been diagnosed with a severe and persistent mental illness. MHU works in collaboration with a variety of community partners including but not limited to the Sheriff's Office, the Courts, Mental Health and Addiction Services, Health Department, the Local Public Safety Coordinating Committee (LPSCC), Oregon Department of Corrections (DOC), Portland Police, treatment providers, and community groups that work with this population.

Program Summary

MHU works to decrease justice-involved individuals (JIIs) with severe behavioral health issues from incarceration and hospitalizations. MHU increases community safety and minimizes individual contact with the criminal justice system by JIIs with individualized community-based treatment and case management with supervision from specially trained Parole-Probation officers (PPOs). The goal of MHU is to reduce recidivism, enhance community safety, and support individuals experiencing significant behavioral health needs in achieving long-term stabilization and improved functioning.

MHU performs the following:

- 1) Improves access to appropriate services for people with severe mental illness who are at high risk of criminal justice involvement;
- 2) Assists individuals in achieving an improved quality of life outside of jails, prisons and hospitals; and
- 3) Provides ongoing monitoring and surveillance.

This program supports public safety by providing supervision and case management functions. PPOs provide skill training to justice-involved individuals to help them change thinking and behaviors that can lead to continued criminal justice involvement. Treatment and case management is provided to high and medium risk individuals to help them stabilize their mental health symptoms and connect them to long term care in the community.

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted operations beginning in March 2020. PPOs had limited in-person visits to address immediate public safety concerns and address high risk behaviors. Field visits resumed in February 2021 and office visits resumed in October 2021, with staff taking the necessary safety precautions. PPOs are meeting clients face-to-face on a regular basis and have resumed all case management practices. The Mental Health Unit also has been conducting community outreach since May 2021 in an effort to reach justice-involved individuals who are experiencing homelessness.

Performance Measures Descriptions

Measures 1 and 2: In FY 2022 the COVID-19 pandemic has impacted the justice system by slowing Court processes. DCJ is now beginning to see the backlog of court cases, and as resolved, more individuals are being placed on probation. The COVID-19 pandemic has increased pressure on the scarce supply housing and DCJ has seen the percentage of JII's supervised by the MHU who are homeless climb to 63%. Community based mental health and substance abuse resources have also been less available.

Executive Summary

The Sex Offense Supervision and Treatment program is a critical public safety function that provides oversight for the comprehensive supervision, treatment, and management of adults convicted of sex offenses within Multnomah County. The priorities of this unit are to increase community safety, decrease sexual victimization, and reduce recidivism. This program achieves these goals through evidence-based supervision strategies combined with sexual offense specific treatment practices.

Program Summary

Evidence-based supervision of individuals convicted of sex offenses is conducted by certified Sex Offense Specialist Parole-Probation Officers (PPO). High and medium risk individuals are supervised in one field office. Individuals identified as lower risk to sexually re-offend are assigned to the Sex Offense Reduced Supervision caseload (50037) after a period of documented compliance.

This program requires individuals convicted of sexual offenses to participate in a comprehensive evaluation, sexual offense specific treatment, and ongoing evaluation of risk provided by approved community treatment providers. Polygraph examinations are required for monitoring compliance with treatment expectations and supervision conditions.

This program has a direct impact on community safety and maintains high standards for accountability. Research has shown individuals who successfully participate in sexual offense specific treatment are less likely to re-offend than those who fail to participate in treatment (Craig et al., 2003; Hanson et al., 2009; Lovins et al., 2009; McGrath et al., 2003). Sexual and general recidivism rates of treated individuals convicted of sexual offenses has also been shown to be lower than recidivism rates of untreated individuals convicted of sex offenses (Looman et al 2000; Hanson et al 2002). The use of polygraph examinations is invaluable in the management and treatment of individuals convicted of sex offenses due to the information gained through the examination process. Furthermore, the use of polygraph examinations is also associated with a decline in recidivism rates (Cole, 2006; Edson et al., 2007; English et al., 2000; Krueger, 2009).

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted operations beginning in March 2020. PPOs had limited in-person visits to address immediate public safety concerns and address high risk behaviors. Field visits resumed in February 2021 and office visits resumed in October 2021, with staff taking the necessary safety precautions. PPOs are meeting clients face-to-face on a regular basis and have resumed all case management practices.

Executive Summary

The Domestic Violence (DV) unit collaborates with police, District Attorney’s Office, courts and treatment agencies to hold justice-involved individuals (JIIs) accountable and promote individual change. This program supervises adults convicted of misdemeanor and felony level offenses. In addition, the DV unit works closely with the Victim and Survivor Services unit to advocate for the safety of the victims and survivors, and include their voices in creating case plan goals.

Program Summary

The DV unit strives to end the cycle of violence by holding individuals accountable for their actions and giving them the opportunity to make long-term positive changes by engaging in appropriate counseling groups (batterer intervention, mental health, etc.). In addition to working with individuals to address behavior change, Parole-Probation Officers (PPO) in the DV unit work closely with victims/survivors and Department of Community Justice (DCJ) Victim Advocates to develop safety plans that help empower them to break the cycle of domestic violence. DV PPOs regularly attend court to ensure a systematic approach is being utilized in victim safety and accountability of the individual on supervision.

Reducing domestic violence is a priority for Multnomah County. This program increases public safety by holding high risk individuals accountable, promoting victim safety, and building strong collaborative efforts with community partners. This program utilizes evidence-based practices including specialized assessment tools and cognitive behavioral intervention programming that is proven to reduce intimate partner violence. Case management strategies provide individuals the opportunity to change by addressing factors which research has shown to reduce criminal behavior (National Institute of Corrections, 2017).

The Domestic Violence Deferred Sentencing Program (DSP) which provides services to those with first time offenses is in Program Offer 50036.

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted operations beginning in March 2020. PPOs had limited in-person visits to address immediate public safety concerns and address high risk behaviors. Executive Summary

The Women & Family Services Unit (WFSU) supervises justice-involved adults, most of whom identify as female. A number of these individuals are pregnant women and/or have children involved in the juvenile justice system. By collaborating with community partners, including the Juvenile Services Division (JSD), WFSU protects children, strengthens families, and works to break the cycle of cross-generational antisocial behavior and crime.

Program Summary

WFSU approaches supervision through a multi-disciplinary team effort. WFSU includes several Community Health Specialists and works closely with staff from Child Welfare, Self Sufficiency, Health Services, the Juvenile Services Division, and mental health agencies. WFSU emphasizes collaboration with other agencies for case planning, resource allocation, and efficient service delivery to address dynamics that place an entire family at risk. WFSU utilizes the Women's Risk Needs Assessment (WRNA) to appropriately assess each woman's actual risk and need areas. This tool allows WFSU staff to be more effective with cognitive behavioral interventions, as well as treatment and service referrals. WFSU's approach equips justice-involved women with skills and resources that strengthen families and successfully defrays long-term costs associated with inter-generational criminal activity.

House Bill 3503 established the Family Sentencing Alternative Pilot (FSAP) Program. This program is included in the Women & Family Services Unit, which diverts qualified justice-involved adults who have custody of a minor child at the time of the offense or are pregnant at the time of sentencing from prison to probation. The intent of this program is to promote reunification of families, prevent children from entering the foster care system, and holding individuals accountable, while utilizing wrap around services, with a primary focus on parenting. WFSU has four staff dedicated to working with clients who are either pregnant, parenting, or attempting to parent their children, through the Department of Human Services involvement. The rest of WFSU staff focus on women involved in the criminal justice system, who are not parenting, due to termination of parental rights through the court systems, collaborating with the Health Department and community partners.

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted operations beginning in March 2020. PPOs had limited in-person visits to address immediate public safety concerns and address high risk behaviors. Field visits resumed in February 2021 and office visits resumed in October 2021, with staff taking the necessary safety precautions. ### Executive Summary

The Diane Wade House is a culturally and gender responsive transitional housing program for justice-involved women centering on the needs of Black and African American women. Community voice plays a significant role in the visioning of the program and services, and will support future development.

Program Summary

The Diane Wade House provides gender-responsive, trauma-informed services with a focus on Black and African-American women.

Residents have access to culturally specific stabilization and support services. The house also provides residential and day treatment for justice-involved women with mental health challenges (with a focus on women of color), offering intensive wraparound services that are culturally-specific and trauma-informed.

The MacArthur grant funding that helped launch the program ended in September 2020. Ongoing funding was provided in FY 2021 to the Department of Community Justice (DCJ) to continue this important program. Throughout FY 2021 DCJ worked with providers and the Community Advisory Board to assess changes that should be made to the services and size and structure of the home. A Request For Proposal (RFP) process is underway which will result in the selection of a provider to run the program.

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted operations and referrals to this house beginning in March 2020. Due to COVID-19 operations in Multnomah County and limitations on the Parole-Probation Officers to contact clients, referrals to the Diane Wade House have been impacted.

Executive Summary

Electronic Monitoring (EM) allows staff to monitor the activities of pre- and post-adjudicated individuals in the community through house arrest, curfew monitoring, alcohol consumption monitoring, or the monitoring of an individual's movement in the community. Utilizing EM and Global Positioning Software (GPS) technology to monitor the movements of justice-involved adults within the community has proven to be a reliable, cost-effective way to sanction individuals and reinforce public safety and the safety of victims.

Program Summary

EM technologies are useful case management tools that allow for a broader range of responses to non-conformance and an alternative to more expensive incarceration during pre-adjudication and post-conviction. EM allows Parole-Probation Officers (PPO) to know where high risk justice-involved individuals (JIIs) are located at any given time. This alternative sanction expands supervision sentencing options for judges. Current data indicate most defendants and JIIs on EM complete their obligation successfully.

This use of EM technology further allows an individual the ability to maintain employment and continue participation in treatment groups. The EM Program is staffed by Correction Technicians (CTs) and provides case management assistance to PPOs by installing the bracelets, monitoring compliance, responding to program violations and communicating violations to PPOs, and maintaining an EM database.

The EM program is a collaborative, systems-oriented program that works closely with Pretrial Supervision Program staff who work with the courts, the Oregon Board of Parole, and the District Attorney's Office.

In FY 2021, DCJ began examining the use of EM, including a demographic breakdown of individuals in the program. Results revealed a higher percentage of Black and African American JIIs being placed on EM. A review of data from 2021 indicates that EM increased in the Gang and Domestic Violence units and decreased in the West and East field supervision units as PPOs looked for other non-punitive options for technical violations, especially in light of the COVID-19 pandemic impacts on operations. The East and West field supervision units include a disproportionate number of JIIs of color on their caseloads.

Output	Number of adults served	333	1,250	325	325
Outcome	Number of jail beds saved	15,643	45,000	15,000	15,000

Performance Measures Descriptions

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted the use of EM. Since March 2020, PPOs were directed to limit the use of EM for technical violations to minimize the potential spread of the virus and focus the use of EM to address immediate public safety concerns. In June 2021, EM service resumed in the office.

Executive Summary

Many property offenses are motivated by substance use disorders. The START (Success through Accountability, Restitution and Treatment) Court program adheres to nationally recognized drug court key components to address addiction by partnering with treatment to hold participants accountable. In an attempt to decrease additional felony convictions and hold people accountable, both the Oregon Department of Corrections and the Oregon Criminal Justice Commission invested monies into comprehensive programming for this population. The funding agencies conduct evaluations of each program and report back to the legislature with the results.

Program Summary

The Department of Community Justice (DCJ) START Court program is committed to a drug court model, engaging a multi-disciplinary team to promote positive outcomes for participants and the community. Intensive supervision, close working partnerships with treatment agencies, and frequent court monitoring ensure comprehensive services and accountability for individuals enrolled in the program.

The START Court program adheres to key components of drug courts to respond to addiction and criminogenic risk factors effectively. The START Court program provides alternative sentencing for downward dispositional cases, and focuses on high risk and high need justice-involved individuals (JII). Comprehensive wrap-around services provided by a variety of stakeholders (Multnomah County Court, the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office, the District Attorney's Office and defense attorneys, treatment, community partners, and DCJ) collaborate to deliver evidence-based practices that produce successful outcomes. Referrals to the START Court program are filtered primarily through the Multnomah County Justice Reinvestment Program (MCJRP), which provides informed sentencing, and is one option for eligible MCJRP cases.

The START policy team has an Equity and Inclusion subcommittee that includes representation from the court, probation, treatment and other team members based on project or discussions. This work is guided by the Racial and Ethnic Disparities (RED) assessment tool and an action plan created as part of the National Drug Court Institute (NDCI) Equity and Inclusion training.

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted operations beginning in March 2020. PPOs had limited in-person visits to address immediate public safety concerns and address high risk behaviors, maintaining contact with JIIs via phone or other virtual options. As state health guidelines and policies became less restrictive in 2022, in-person interactions increased.

Executive Summary

The Adult Community Service Program provides an effective, cost-efficient sentence/sanction that is available to the courts and Parole-Probation Officers (PPO). This program promotes public safety by engaging justice-involved individuals in restorative practices, as well as teaching pro-social skills and promoting anti-criminal thinking patterns. Community Service assists individuals with their court mandated obligations of community service work, and provides sanctioning services to individuals on bench probation, formal probation and post-prison supervision. Justice-involved individuals (JIIs) sanctioned to complete community service learn skills associated with tool use, safety, teamwork, and in 2022 we will have a new community service work crew option of learning to sew.

Program Summary

Community Service provides the courts and Parole-Probation Officers with a cost-effective method of holding individuals accountable while providing reparations for the community. Individuals are referred to Community Service by PPOs and by the courts for both bench and formal Supervision. Courts sentence adults to Community Service as a condition of probation and PPOs can sanction individuals to complete community service as a consequence of a supervision violation. Community Service is a sanction which allows our JIIs to maintain employment, and it is an alternative to jail. Community Service also provides JIIs the chance to give back to their community through work accomplished at public parks, on water bureau sites, and numerous watersheds. In addition to alternative sanctions and allowing individuals the opportunity to give back to the community, Community Service also allows individuals to earn money to pay back victims of crimes through the Restitution Work Crew program. Restitution Work Crew is offered on Saturdays and the $112 earned goes directly to the victim of the court case.

The Juvenile Community Service program has two components: Community Service and Project Payback. Youth do landscaping work and litter clean-up in much needed areas. The Juvenile Community Service/Project Payback Program provides youth with the ability to fulfill their court mandated obligation while earning money (being paid current minimum wage) to pay their court-ordered restitution. From July 2021 to January 2022, JIIs worked a total of 73 hours and earned $12,186 to court and individual victims for restitution. Both Community Service and Project Payback provide youth with a pro-social activity while building skills to help them be successful. Youth learn pro-social interactions, teamwork, landscaping techniques, hand/power tool use and maintenance, and how to safely and efficiently accomplish tasks.

The COVID-19 pandemic led to the suspension of this program in March 2020, and only resumed with a limited crew in June 2021.

Performance Measures Descriptions

Alternative Community Service work crews decreased due to the COVID-19 pandemic and have ramped up beginning in June 2021 with a limit of only two JII's per van. Due to the limit, the ability to meet contract requirements with partners was decreased.

Executive Summary

High risk Black and African American men and women returning to their communities from prison and placed on supervision are over represented in the criminal justice system. Department of Community Justice (DCJ) is committed to addressing systemic racism that creates unnecessary barriers for Black community members. Lack of education, employment experience, and supportive housing coupled with returning to communities that may present some of the same anti-social influences have a negative impact on successful re-entry into the community.

Program Summary

DCJ works with culturally responsive providers who have demonstrated effectiveness in improving outcomes for Black and African American justice-involved individuals (JIIs) in the areas of education, employment, culturally responsive cognitive behavioral therapy and family stability. This target population is under supervision with the African American Program (AAP) and Gang unit. Providers engage in cognitive behavior therapy, peer support, parenting, employment, and educational services designed to change criminal thinking and behaviors.

Behavioral interventions seek to identify and change criminal thinking errors and emotional responses. This involves helping individuals develop skills for modifying thoughts and beliefs as well as exploring consequences. The provider utilizes peer supports to assist JIIs with navigating complex systems such as education and employment. Mentoring helps adults establish stable lives by reducing the chaos brought about by poverty, homelessness, underemployment, as well as the effects of incarceration. Gang members have shown an increased willingness to participate in programs that use mentors that have had similar life experiences as their own. The relationship that develops between the mentor and the gang member is a key factor for engaging with pro-social resources, relationships, and behavior change.

JIIs in this program are classified as high risk based on risk assessment scores. They are also identified prior to being released from prison as gang members based on an established set of criteria. Cognitive interventions follow the Habilitation Empowerment Accountability Therapy (HEAT) curriculum, a culturally responsive cognitive behavioral intervention program designed to reflect and address the unique experiences and needs of participants, respectively.

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted operations beginning in March 2020. Parole-Probation Officers (PPOs) had limited in-person visits to address immediate public safety concerns and address high risk behaviors. Field visits resumed in February 2021 and home visits resumed in October 2021, with staff taking the necessary safety precautions. PPOs are meeting clients face-to-face on a regular basis and have resumed all case management practices.

Executive Summary

The Department of Community Justice (DCJ) East Campus houses several important supervision programs. DCJ adheres to evidence-based risk principles to determine supervision levels ensuring resources are targeted to the highest risk. Multnomah County receives a large number of high risk individuals and is still able to produce lower recidivism rates for these cases compared to the statewide average.

Program Summary

High risk supervision uses evidence-based strategies to identify criminogenic risk factors to supervise high risk individuals on probation and parole. DCJ utilizes the Level of Service/Case Management Inventory (LS/CMI), the Women’s Risk Need Assessment (WRNA) and the Public Safety Checklist (PSC) assessment tools to measure the risks and needs of adults. The LS/CMI is also a fully functioning case management tool that provides a summary of the individual’s static and dynamic criminogenic risk and need factors, as well as special responsivity considerations to be deployed during supervision. The WRNA is a gender responsive risk assessment created with justice-involved women’s social and psychological needs in mind. The PSC provides a quick, objective, validated assessment of the probability an individual will be re-convicted of a felony or rearrested for a person or property offense based on specific characteristics.

DCJ continues to use Effective Practices in Community Supervision (EPICS), an evidence-based case management model. With EPICS, Parole-Probation Officers (PPO) follow a structured approach to their interactions with their clients, allowing PPOs to effectively target the criminogenic needs using cognitive behavioral interventions for high risk individuals. They also integrate trauma informed practices and brain science into their daily work. Supervision is conducted through: a) home and office visits; b) contacts with family; c) correspondence with community members and treatment providers; and d) collaboration with law enforcement agencies. The risk of these individuals committing new crimes is reduced when evidence-based supervision is in place and monitored. The Reduced Supervision model takes care not to bring justice-involved adults who are low risk deeper into the criminal justice system, provides minimal supervision and encourages increased self-sufficiency.

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted operations beginning in March 2020. PPOs had limited in-person visits to address immediate public safety concerns and address high risk behaviors. Field visits resumed in February 2021 and office visits resumed in October 2021, with staff taking the necessary safety precautions. PPOs are meeting clients face-to-face on a regular basis and have resumed all case management practices.

Executive Summary

Assessment and Referral Center (ARC) Transition Services staff meet with high risk individuals, before and after their release from custody, to determine which strategies and services are most appropriate to reduce the risk of recidivism. Results indicate that using individual specific referrals and re-entry services, including housing placement, reduces recidivism and increases engagement. Coordinated, immediate service delivery, including post-release housing addresses client needs.

Program Summary

ARC Transition Services' mission is to end homelessness and maintain community safety. Their approach to this includes placing high risk, high need individuals directly into housing with supportive services immediately following their release from incarceration. This approach is consistent with the current Multnomah County plan to end homelessness by interrupting and/or circumventing the individual's entry to homelessness and risk for cycling in and out of incarceration.

Evidence-based practices clearly dictate the need to provide case management, access to healthcare, and safe and secure housing for justice-involved individuals (JIs) releasing from jail, prison or residential treatment. Transition Services staff prioritize cultural-specific and responsive, inclusive housing options when possible. Currently, there is capacity to provide short and long-term housing services for an average of 310 high risk adults identified with behavioral or medical needs using several contracted agencies within the community. Providing housing to JIs is cost effective. On average, the cost to house an individual is $41.50 daily, as compared to $170 per day to incarcerate an individual in jail or prison.

Executive Summary

The pretrial services expansion of the new Flip the Script (FTS) initiative expands services to Black and African Americans, exiting incarceration and/or people in need of support in pretrial release and/or diversion services to avoid incarceration. Funding for this initiative was provided in the FY 2022 budget as part of a public safety package that shifted funds from the traditional criminal justice system and reinvested in upstream prevention, diversion, and reentry programs focused on the Black, Indigenous and/or People of Color (BIPOC).

Program Summary

Flip The Script (FTS) is a significant initiative led by Central City Concern (CCC) that aims to increase employment, secure permanent housing placements, and reduce recidivism among people of color exiting incarceration. Several studies found that Black and African American people are overrepresented in the criminal justice system, including in Multnomah County. To better understand and address these disparities, the design includes culturally specific employment, housing, and peer support services—as well as an exclusively Black and African American Advocacy Work Team to articulate the needs of returning community members.

The ultimate goals of FTS are to:

1. Reduce racial disparities in reentry service outcomes (employment, average income at exit, and obtaining housing where the program participant is rent responsible);
2. Engage Black and African American participants in advocacy to identify common barriers and needed system changes;
3. Reduce recidivism overall, and eliminate disparate rates of recidivism between racial and ethnic groups (using Oregon Department of Corrections (DOC) recidivism data over the first three years of FTS); and
4. Demonstrate a positive return on investment for the community.

There was a delayed start to pretrial referrals, however, everything with the FTS Program space and referrals are at anticipated levels.

Executive Summary

The Domestic Violence (DV) unit strives to end the cycle of partner to partner violence by holding justice-involved adults accountable for their actions and giving them the opportunity to make long-term positive changes by engaging in appropriate counseling groups (batterer intervention, mental health, etc.). In addition to working with individuals to address behavior change, Parole-Probation Officers (PPO) in the DV unit work closely with victims and survivors and DCJ victim advocates to give them the resources to increase their safety. This program provides services to those with first time offenses.

Program Summary

Related to program offer (50026), this program offer provides two critical service components to the Domestic Violence (DV) unit.

1) Individuals with first time offenses of domestic violence are placed in the Deferred Sentencing Program (DSP). DSP provides individuals access to services that help address their violent behavior patterns. If an individual successfully completes all requirements of DSP, he/she is not convicted of the initial offense and the case is dismissed.

2) DSP refers DV defendants to intervention services for batterers, which helps prevent their behavior from escalating into further victimization, contacts with law enforcement and subsequent stays in costly jails.

DV PPOs regularly attend court to ensure a collaborative approach is being utilized in victim safety and client accountability. Reducing domestic violence is a priority for Multnomah County. This program increases public safety by holding individuals accountable, promoting victim safety and building strong collaborative efforts with community partners. This program utilizes evidence-based practices including specialized assessment tools and cognitive behavioral intervention programming. Case management strategies provide individuals the opportunity to change by engaging in proven practices aimed to change destructive and violent behaviors which research has shown to reduce criminal behavior (National Institute of Corrections, 2017).

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted operations beginning in March 2020. PPOs had limited in-person visits to address immediate public safety concerns and address high risk behaviors. Field visits resumed in February 2021 and office visits resumed in October 2021, with staff taking the necessary safety precautions. PPOs are meeting clients face-to-face on a regular basis and have resumed all case management practices.

Executive Summary

The Sex Offense Reduced Supervision (SORS) caseload provides supervision for adults convicted of sex offenses who have been identified as low risk for sexual re-offense by validated risk assessment tools. A reduced level of supervision is provided to qualifying clients in order to monitor compliance with sexual offense specific treatment, sex offense registration and special conditions of supervision. The SORS caseload's staff assists with community safety by reducing risk through continued monitoring of the individual's behavior while on supervision.

Program Summary

The SORS caseload is for adults convicted of sex offenses who have been identified as low risk for sexual re-offense. These individuals have shown compliance via: 1) Completing a minimum of one year supervision and treatment; 2) Passing a full disclosure polygraph (if medically able and if no extenuating circumstances exist); 3) Passing a maintenance polygraph within six months prior to their transfer to the SORS caseload; and 4) Having a limited sexual and criminal history.

An individual who meets any of the following criteria is excluded from SORS supervision: 1) Having a score of 6+ on the Static-99 assessment tool which is a risk assessment tool designed to assist in the prediction of sexual and violent recidivism among adult male sex offenders; 2) Having a primary sexual preference for children or sexual arousal to violence; 3) Having emotional identification with children; and 4) Level 3 Sex designation (may be waived by the manager).

In accordance with the Risk/Need/Responsivity model, the SORS program limits the extent of resources invested in low risk individuals and focuses on allocating the majority of resources to high and medium risk adults convicted of sex offenses. One (1) Sex Offense Specialist Parole-Probation Officer (PPO) supervises the SORS caseload and is required to complete a home visit every six months. The individual on supervision is required to submit monthly reports, report in person every six months, successfully complete a maintenance polygraph every six months, participate in sexual offense specific treatment until discharged, and pay court ordered fees. Individuals are returned to a high risk caseload if there are any indications of status instability or verified behaviors that present an increased risk to the community or victim.

Executive Summary

The Strategic Treatment and Engagement Program (STEP) Court is a specialty court designed to serve defendants charged with certain violent felonies, with a goal of reducing criminal offending through therapeutic and interdisciplinary approaches that address addiction and other underlying issues without jeopardizing public safety or due process. This innovative problem-solving court is the first in Oregon specifically designed to target and serve defendants who committed Measure 11 offenses/major person crimes. STEP Court will focus on disparities in the criminal justice system by providing non-prison options for eligible individuals charged with Measure 11 offenses.

Program Summary

STEP Court operates under a specialized model to provide court-directed supervision and a wide variety of treatment to violent individuals with substance use, mental health concerns, or cognitive behavioral issues underlying their criminal behavior. This court will follow the problem-solving court model and offer alternative judicial processing for individuals accused of certain violent offenses. The program seeks to reduce both general recidivism and violent crime recidivism using evidence-based approaches, including judicial monitoring and coordination among community and treatment stakeholders. It also follows a process that encourages informed sentencing decision-making and promotes prison diversion if the participant can be safely supervised in the community. STEP Court adheres to professional standards and best practices for specialty court programs.

STEP Court will establish objective screening criteria and include equal opportunities for enrollment and participation. Preliminary demographic information suggests that this problem-solving court will expand and enhance opportunities for Black and African American defendants. Analyzing data will be central to informing future decisions to determine outcome measures by evaluating participant enrollment, retention, and outcomes.

Executive Summary

This program offer will support the implementation of restorative justice philosophy and practices into the juvenile detention facility. It funds a Restorative Justice Coordinator position that is responsible for overseeing the implementation and maintenance of the philosophy and interventions, as well as a contractor to provide staff training, coaching and consultation.

Program Summary

The Department of Community Justice (DCJ) seeks to cultivate a restorative justice philosophy in the juvenile detention facility. Under a restorative justice philosophy, youth detained in detention will receive services and interventions that address their thinking and behavior, and provide opportunities for them to repair the harm that their behavior caused. Teaching youth restorative practices will better equip them with knowledge and skills to promote healthy decision-making, empathy and accountability both while they are in detention and once they are released to the community. This funding will add a position to coordinate the implementation and on-going utilization of restorative practices in detention and the Assessment & Evaluation (A&E) residential program, and will also fund a contract dedicated to training and consulting staff/managers and assisting in the development of a restorative practices implementation plan.

Youth of color are significantly over-represented in detention. Youth will benefit from the implementation of a restorative justice philosophy to learn skills in accountability, empathy and repairing harm. Restorative Justice practices are relational and restorative, and they align with goals related to diversity, equity and inclusion. Restorative Justice is an alternative to exclusionary practices (such as the use of room confinement or isolation) when community problems occur. It seeks to restore the "community" and repair the harm while holding all involved accountable.

Executive Summary

This program offer enhances the Department of Community Justice (DCJ) effort to improve conditions of confinement in our juvenile detention facility by investing in the physical building which is 27 years old and in disrepair. Facilities Project Management (FPM) has allocated some funding for capital improvements, but that will only restore one pod (two units) in the Juvenile Detention center to its original condition. This funding will allow for enhancements to the physical space for two pods (four units) to create a safer and trauma-informed environment.

Program Summary

DCJ is committed to improving the safety and environment of our Juvenile Detention center. Although Facilities Project Management (FPM) has allocated resources to make much-needed and long overdue repairs to one detention pod (two units per pod), funding is not sufficient to enhance the environment to become more trauma-informed and developmentally appropriate. This program offer focuses on creating youth sleeping rooms that are less institutional, making showers safer, expanding usable space in the dayroom, creating areas for additional programming/services, and improving lighting and ventilation. An additional $1 million is needed to supplement FPM's $1.2 million/pod investment for one pod, and an additional $2.2 million is needed to restore and enhance a second pod.

Youth of color are significantly over-represented in detention. These improvements will help youth of color by providing a safe and trauma-informed environment. The refurbishment improves the sleeping rooms, showers and programming space. When youth feel safe they are able to gain skills, stabilize and then successfully return to home or other community placements.

Executive Summary

Family Court Services (FCS) helps keep children safe, families stable, and promotes public safety through services to families as they experience the major life transition of separation or divorce. Exposure to parental conflict and the potential loss of a parent through separation or divorce places children at risk for delinquency, teen pregnancy, behavioral health issues, and poor school performance, which can lead to a cycle of dysfunction and offending behavior. These services help promote healthy parenting dynamics and communication. Family Court Services offers conflict resolution and parent information services to support positive connections as families change.

Program Summary

Through parent education, mediation, co-parent coaching, and information and referral services, FCS assists families involved with the Family Court and plays a critical role in supporting families to limit their children's exposure to ongoing parental conflict. Parent education and mediation are state-mandated services for parents involved in the Family Court system.

The Parent Education Program provides relevant legal and parenting information to nearly 2,500 Multnomah County parents with a Family Law case each year.

In addition to Parent Education, FCS provides child custody and parenting time mediation to over 1,000 families per year and provides co-parenting coaching to families experiencing high levels of conflict. FCS also produces materials such as the "Birth Through Three" and "Second Chances" handbooks for use by parents and others in need of information relevant to co-parenting issues.

FCS is housed in the Downtown Courthouse and services have been available at the Juvenile Court and East County Courthouse in order to better serve the residents of East Multnomah County. The COVID-19 pandemic impacted operations beginning in March 2020. All FCS services are provided virtually currently, some of which will continue even once FCS resumes in person services at some point in the future. Providing mediation services remotely has enabled FCS to expand hours to offer mediation in the early morning, early evening, and on Saturdays.

Executive Summary

The Courtyard Cafe provides a valuable service for visitors, Juvenile Justice partners, and staff at the Juvenile Justice Complex. The Courtyard Cafe serves breakfast and lunch daily Monday through Friday. There are limited other food options available near the Juvenile Justice Complex. The Cafe supports detention staff who do not get breaks that allow for them to leave the building easily.

Program Summary

This offer maintains food service by the Courtyard Cafe for the Juvenile Justice Complex. The Courtyard Cafe food service has a significant positive impact on maintaining staff morale and the good will of JSD's juvenile justice system partners at the Juvenile Justice Complex. Many of JSD's partners utilize the Cafe for breakfast and lunch meetings between Court hearings.

The Cafe is also a resource for families who often have to spend time at the Juvenile Justice Complex awaiting court hearings and other meetings. It provides them with an affordable and convenient option for food. Without the Cafe, staff and others would have to leave to get meals. It provides a natural meeting space where DCJ staff and partners can interact to catch up on business as well as build positive relationships.

The Courtyard Catering Services primarily serves Multnomah County events but is available for catering to the public as well. The catering provides a source of revenue for Juvenile Nutrition Services and an opportunity for youth in the culinary arts program to receive vocational training and experience in cooking and baking.

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted operations beginning in March 2020. While the Juvenile Justice Complex did remain open, fewer staff worked in the building impacting demand for food service. Regular food service continued to serve the remaining staff but it offered take out service only until October 2021 when it reopened for in-person purchases.

Performance Measures Descriptions

Measure 1 and 2: FY 2021, the COVID-19 pandemic impacted the program offer in every way. All caterings stopped with the exception of providing shelter and outreach meals to the homeless population. The Cafe closed entirely for two weeks, then opened for take-away business only for the few staff and partners who remained in the building. Catering has picked back up in the current fiscal year largely to provide outreach meals. We expect this to continue for the next few years.

Executive Summary

Juvenile Detention protects the community by holding youth in custody when they are awaiting a hearing and have been determined to be a serious risk to public safety and/or are high risk to not appear for court. In FY 2021, over 450 youth were brought to Juvenile Detention for intake screening. This offer funds 40 of the 56 beds required to meet the Metro Region's daily detention needs.

Program Summary

Though originally constructed with 191 beds, only 56 beds are needed to meet the Metro Region's daily detention needs. Clackamas and Washington Counties will contract for a total of 27 beds. The remaining 29 beds will house high risk Multnomah County youth who are not appropriate for community placement. Of those 56 beds, a unit of 16 beds must be kept available for youth who identify as female.

The ability to safely detain delinquent youth is mandated by Oregon law and is essential to community protection. The decisions made to hold Multnomah County youth in detention are based on the results of a validated detention screening system along with policies developed collaboratively among system stakeholders. This system has saved Multnomah County millions of dollars by safely diverting lower risk youth into less costly community placement alternatives. The ability to house tri-county youth in one facility maximizes the use of space and provides the flexibility needed to structure units according to age and gender.

Funding for these 40 detention beds allows for intake services and housing arrangements for youth who are awaiting trial, have violated parole, have serious probation violations, or are on out-of-state holds awaiting return to their jurisdiction.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, juvenile justice partners worked together to decrease the number of youth placed in detention in an effort to prevent the spread of the virus. This provided the juvenile justice system an opportunity to operate significantly below capacity while finding alternatives to detention without impacting public safety. Black, African American, and Latinx youth are overrepresented in detention. Less detention illuminates opportunities to create more appropriate, culturally responsive alternatives to detention that will benefit these youth.

Executive Summary

One of the key components for supervision of pre-adjudicated justice-involved youth is to allow for qualified youth to remain at home or in community placements while awaiting court processing. The Community Monitoring Program (CMP) provides supervision and support while reserving the use of costly detention bed spaces for youth who pose a significant and immediate threat to public safety. Research published by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP) shows that detaining youth, who can otherwise be safely maintained in the community, makes it more likely they will re-offend.

Program Summary

This program serves both pre-adjudicated and post-adjudicated youth to ensure court compliance. CMP consists of four levels of supervision. All youth start out on the highest level and may be reduced in their level of supervision based on their performance.

While on CMP, each youth is required to make several daily phone calls to the CMP office for mandatory check-ins. CMP staff conduct face-to-face visits at home, school, and place of employment (referred to as field visits) to support each youth's success and assure program compliance, and adherence to conditions of release. Field visits are random and are conducted 7 days a week, 365 days a year. Each youth's progress is reviewed weekly by the team to measure client compliance. The goal of the program is for each youth to comply with the court ordered release conditions and successfully complete the program.

Multnomah County Juvenile Services Division (JSD) is a national model site for Juvenile Detention Alternatives Initiative (JDAI). JDAI's success is dependent on having detention alternative programs such as CMP which use the least restrictive means possible to ensure youth who are pending a court process do not reoffend or fail to appear for their hearing. Without a range of alternatives to detention, Multnomah County JSD would detain significantly more youth per year.

The COVID-19 pandemic has impacted the operations of this program. Beginning in March 2020, in-person visits were limited which likely impacted outcomes related to youth successfully completing the program. In addition, the pandemic caused an increase in the severity of charges for youth who utilized this program as an alternative to detention. In an effort to respond to the pandemic, juvenile justice system partners worked together to find community alternatives to detention, such as CMP.

Performance Measures

Measure Type	Primary Measure	FY21 Actual	FY22 Budgeted	FY22 Estimate	FY23 Offer
Output	Number of youth referrals	135	250	200	200
Outcome	Percent of youth who attend their court appearance	98%	98%	100%	100%

Performance Measures Descriptions

Measure 1 and 2: FY 2022, the COVID-19 pandemic has had an impact on use of alternatives to detention. There was a temporary hold on conducting home visits due COVID-19. The suspension of home visits altered the use of Community Monitoring (CM), which lowered the number of referrals. Electronic Monitoring (EM) was used as a passive form of monitoring electronically, without home visits. As home visits have returned, and both EM and CM are used, DCJ now sees an increase in population.

Executive Summary

Juvenile detention alternatives in the form of short-term shelter and residential placements protect the public by safely supervising identified high risk youth in the community. Many of these justice-involved youth are Black, African American and Latinx. By placing these youth in culturally appropriate community settings (short-term shelter care or treatment foster care), fewer youth of color are confined in detention. Juvenile shelter and residential placements additionally save the County money by avoiding more costly detention each year while preserving public safety.

Program Summary

Oregon Revised Statute (ORS) 419C.145 defines the circumstances under which a youth may be placed in detention pre-adjudication. A youth having committed a felony crime, accumulated a history of warrants for failure to appear in court, engaged in probation or conditions of release violations, or participated in certain person-to-person misdemeanors such as family violence, is eligible for custody. Further stipulated in this statute are mandates that require these youth to be released to a parent, shelter or other responsible party as long as their release does not endanger the welfare of the community or the youth. While in shelter care, youth attend school, participate in treatment and work with an assigned Juvenile Court Counselor.

Multnomah County serves as a model site, and has long been regarded as a national leader in the Juvenile Detention Alternatives Initiative (JDAI). Shelter care is one of the alternatives to detention that the Juvenile Services Division (JSD) utilizes. Shelter care services offer at-risk youth who would otherwise be placed in costly detention beds an opportunity to remain safely in the community under a high level of structure and supervision by professional shelter care providers. JSD contracts with Boys and Girls Aid and Maple Star Oregon to provide short-term shelter and treatment foster care to pre- and post-adjudicated youth. Services are focused on providing a safe, secure, and supportive environment that assists with behavioral stabilization, strengthens individual and family relationships, uses evidence-based practices (EBP) and strength-based approaches in dealing with the criminogenic needs of the youth, and facilitates the youth’s reintegration back to the family and/or community. The majority of justice-involved youth placed in these shelter programs are Black, African American, or Latinx. By serving youth of color in culturally appropriate placements (short-term shelter care or treatment foster care), research has shown the disproportionate confinement of youth of color drops significantly and keeps youth connected to their communities without a reduction in public safety.

Executive Summary

Adjudication serves youth, typically ages 12 to 18, who are facing charges in the Juvenile Court. Youth are assessed using validated risk assessment instruments to determine the appropriate level of services and supervision needed to protect the community, restore the harm caused to victims, and assist youth in becoming productive members of the community.

Program Summary

Adjudication provides professional evaluation, investigation, counseling, casework and pre-adjudication supervision of complex cases to justice-involved youth. They assist youth and families as they go through the adjudication process in the juvenile court system, monitoring multiple dockets, making recommendations about youth placement during this process.

Adjudication conducts daily intakes, responds to victim and public inquiries, administers standardized, comprehensive delinquency risk assessments to identify each youth's risk to reoffend, and gathers social history information that is provided to the judiciary in a formal Court Report and used to inform the judge's dispositional order.

Adjudication staff communicates with the District Attorney's Office regarding charging decisions, provides valuable information and referral services to the public, and facilitates victim services as mandated by Oregon Victims' Rights Law. Judges rely heavily on adjudication staff to provide critical information and technical support for daily court docketing and proceedings.

Adjudication staff manages and monitors shelter bed availability for out-of-home placement as an alternative to detention and for youth who cannot safely return home. Adjudication staff monitor the daily court docket, assist the Juvenile Court with delinquency matters, set court proceedings in motion, and collaborate with Deputy District Attorneys, defense attorneys, State Court Clerk's Office, and Judicial Officers concerning matters of law and court processes including preparation of court reports and recommendations. Adjudication staff represent the Juvenile Services Division during these court proceedings.

Executive Summary

Juvenile Field Probation (JFP) services are divided into specialized units designed to address the unique needs of each youth population. Specialized units serve youth involved in serious person felonies, gangs, sexual offenses, weapon related charges, and victims of commercial sexual exploitation (CSEC). Juvenile Field Probation holds youth accountable through specialized supervision and sanctions, restorative opportunities, skill building, mentoring, and positive developmentally appropriate activities.

Program Summary

Juvenile Court Counselors (JCC) develop probation case plans, enforce court ordered conditions, and address victim restitution and restoration. In addition to holding youth accountable for repairing harm, JCC's coordinate treatment (e.g. mental health and substance abuse) and interventions designed to address and prevent further delinquent behavior. Skill building, mentoring, educational advocacy, and the incorporation of pro-social developmentally-appropriate activities are all used to counteract gang involvement, sexual offending, and other harmful behaviors leading to further involvement in the justice system. JFP focuses on the highest risk youth by utilizing Functional Family Probation Services (FFPS), an evidence-based case management model that has proven results in reducing recidivism and promoting accountability and positive youth development among justice-involved youth. Probation's use of FFPS increases family participation in the youth's supervision and treatment, and youth have increased success on supervision when family members are actively participating. JCCs refer youth to interventions including intensive family based counseling, specialized youth treatment, culturally appropriate services, job readiness and employment opportunities, positive peer influences, and community support systems.

JCCs are an integral member of the Community Healing Initiative (CHI), which uses an interdisciplinary, culturally specific approach to develop and implement plans for positive youth development, family support and community protection. JCCs also collaborate with police, adult Parole-Probation Officers and the community to gather intelligence that helps with intervention when delinquent behavior is present.

Executive Summary

The Assessment and Evaluation (A&E) Program is a Behavior Rehabilitation Services (BRS) short term residential program designed to provide comprehensive assessment, temporary structure, stabilization and treatment readiness. The A&E program serves youth who may otherwise be in detention awaiting a community placement. The goal of this program is to provide a safe place where youth and family can make longer term plans for the youth.

Program Summary

The BRS A&E program is a voluntary program for youth of all genders, ages 13-17, who require a staff secured, out of home placement for assessment, evaluation, stabilization, and transition planning. Youth may be enrolled for up to 90 days based on individual needs. Capacity for the program is 16 youth. Participants receive an assessment administered by a licensed mental health professional, as well as a service plan that is developed by the Primary Counselor, parent (guardian), and the youth.

Each youth in the program has an individualized service plan that reflects how the program will address the youth’s issues, describes anticipated outcomes, and is reviewed and approved by the youth and the parent/guardian. Additional assessments (alcohol and drug, psychiatric evaluation) may be provided as indicated as well as assistance in obtaining assessments in the community (psychological or psycho sexual). The core philosophy of the program is to provide holistic, trauma-informed, client- and family-focused services for young people and their families, engaging youth in an array of services with consideration given to their developmental levels, gender needs, cultural background, community support, parental involvement, and other social support. The program follows best practices for trauma-informed care and has adopted a model which emphasizes strength-based and cognitive-behavioral interventions. Services also include individual and group counseling in a culturally responsive environment, skill training, family counseling, and parent training.

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted operations of this program. While it continues to serve as an important alternative to detention, there was a need to track the census in an effort to maintain physical distancing.

Performance Measures Descriptions

In FY 2021, the number of youth assessed were impacted by the following: (1) A&E had 3 JCSS bid into positions who were on some form of leave for approximately six months, (2) Clackamas County renegotiated the A&E which impacted referral numbers, (3) the COVID-19 pandemic impacted referral numbers, and (4) staff was called upon to help in other areas of the building.

Executive Summary

Community Healing Initiative (CHI) provides culturally specific, holistic, family-based, wraparound services to medium and high risk Black, African American, Latinx, other CHI-qualifying youth, and their families. CHI is a family and community-centered collaboration designed to stop youth and gang violence in Multnomah County by addressing its root causes.

Program Summary

This collaborative paradigm between the Department of Community Justice (DCJ) and community-based providers is a joint system responsibility that entails shared financial resources and investments, shared system outcomes, and shared risk. CHI applies supervision, intervention, and prevention strategies to youth and families who have recent involvement with high-risk activities and behaviors relevant to violence/gun violence. Within CHI, each family receives a comprehensive assessment and individualized family service plan. Services are tailored to meet a family's individual needs and integrated in a manner that reduces and prevents gang/gun violence. The majority of youth served by CHI are on probation to the Juvenile Court, though 20% of referrals can come from the community.

A network of public safety and social service agencies, and community-based organizations known as the Youth, Family and Community Team build service capacity, promote integrated case management, increase connection to ethnic communities in the metropolitan area, and augment community safety. The team focuses on sustainability through fostering family and community ownership and empowerment. Team services are evidence-based, culturally specific, and family oriented. The family service plans address criminogenic needs that most closely link with recidivism and youth violence. In addition, CHI youth and parents receive culturally specific mentoring services from mentors with lived experience.

The goals of CHI are to prevent youth of color from committing new crimes and penetrating further into the justice system. Culturally competent, strength-based programs that are delivered in homes, schools, and the community are shown to be most effective with disenfranchised youth. CHI has a proven track record of preventing unnecessary and expensive placement in residential programs and confinement in correctional facilities.

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted the operations of this program. CHI providers shifted to virtual outreach and have developed creative ways to continue to stay engaged with the youth and their families.

Executive Summary

The greatest racial and ethnic disparities in the Multnomah County juvenile justice system occurs at the point of referral from law enforcement. This data led JSD and our system partners to focus on and apply culturally-specific early intervention services. The Community Healing Initiative (CHI) Early Intervention and Prevention Programs are a community based and family-focused effort designed to prevent and reduce delinquency, address root causes, and augment community safety and connection. Culturally specific nonprofits provide services, supports, and referrals calibrated to the level of risk and family needs for youth.

Program Summary

The Community Healing Initiative (CHI) is an emerging and innovative overarching best practice for preventing and reducing juvenile justice involvement and addressing racial and ethnic disparities. At the community level, CHI is essential to building capacity and safety in communities of color. All youth who have committed lower level offenses that qualify for the CHI Early Intervention program are referred to community-based providers that offer risk and needs assessment, care coordination, prosocial programming, and referrals to needed services. Risk and needs are assessed through validated tools and the program uses assertive engagement to focus on those youth with the highest needs. Program Coordinators are assigned to a caseload of youth to develop service plans tailored to meet the individual youth and family situation. School connection/re-connection assistance, counseling, youth development activities (e.g. sports, arts), and parent support/parenting classes are among the most critical areas of needs.

Also included is funding for the CHI Gang Prevention Services provided by culturally specific organizations. Youth of color experience exclusionary school discipline, disconnection from school and a lack of educational attainment at disproportionate rates in Multnomah County. These factors, along with trauma have been cited as contributors to behavioral health challenges, delinquency, and gang involvement in Multnomah County. CHI Prevention Services focus on addressing these root causes for violence with gang impacted youth and their families. These services are aligned with the Multnomah County Strategic Plan to address gang violence based on the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP) Comprehensive Gang Model Implementation Plan.

The COVID-19 pandemic impacted the operations of this program. CHI providers shifted to virtual outreach and have developed creative ways to continue to stay engaged with the youth and their families.

Executive Summary

Funding from the American Rescue Plan (ARP) will increase our capacity to provide short and long-term housing/shelter for high risk adults with special needs using several community contracted agencies. Providing housing to justice-involved individuals (JIIs) is cost-effective and circumvents JIIs from entering the homeless service delivery system. This offer was funded in FY 2022 and due to continued need, is being requested again for FY 2023.

Program Summary

The Assessment and Referral Center (ARC) Transition Services actively works to build partnerships with community-based services and organizations, as well as other Multnomah County departments, specifically Corrections Health, to provide the continuum of care that is needed for recently released individuals, including housing, health assessments, treatment access, case coordination and engagement. The ARC facilitates housing placements for JIIs who are released from state and local custody and identified at risk of homelessness. JIIs released from institutions impacted by COVID-19, as well as JIIs who cannot reside with family members who are deemed high risk for COVID-19 are screened and placed in appropriate housing including those that need to be placed in 14-day quarantine prior to transitional and long-term housing.

This program offer funds transitional beds at various locations throughout Multnomah County. This includes beds (as needed) for clients transitioning to the medical shelter program from institutions impacted by COVID-19 who need a unit specific for their special needs, for example elevator and bathrooms that accommodate individuals with mobility issues. ARC also provides rent assistance and support (phones and phone cards) to move clients from transitional housing to long-term housing in a timely manner.

Funding from the American Rescue Plan (ARP) will increase the capacity for Habilitation Empowerment Accountability Therapy (HEAT) program to be delivered to Black and African-American justice-involved individuals (JIIs). This funding will also support funding three Community Health Specialists, departmental infrastructure to support ARP goals and one Records Technician position in the Victim and Survivor Services unit. This offer was funded in FY 2022 and due to continued need, is being requested again for FY 2023.

Program Summary

The HEAT curriculum is a culturally responsive cognitive behavioral intervention program designed to reflect and address the unique experiences and needs of participants. The ability to address antisocial thinking is an effective way to reduce recidivism especially as it relates to gun violence. This program will add more curriculum and capacity to provide in house/partner training.

This program offer is expanding programming to 18-30 year old young men, providing community support and resources to Latinx communities for those impacted by gang involvement and gun violence. This programming includes peer support, skill building, cognitive services and behavioral/culturally responsive services. This would provide opportunities to partner with national experts to build out culturally responsive programming for this population of justice-involved individuals and further developing promising practices to work with underserved populations within the community.

This program offer will continue to fund a Records Technician in the Victim and Survivor Services unit to ensure compliance with Crime Victims' Rights. Since FY19 victims/survivors who signed up for notification of rights increased by more than 50%. The number of victims/survivors requesting victim rights impacts additional critical job functions of the unit that are required by statute, namely, notifying victims of hearings and events related to their requested rights.

This program offer will also continue to fund a Project Manager to assist DCJ implement the American Relief Act programs, as well as assist the department as DCJ prepares to embrace the future of work due to COVID-19 impacts, reform efforts, enhanced collaborations to reduce gun violence and to maximize opportunities to inclusively lead with race.

Three Community Health Specialists have been hired to work in the Women's and Family unit in collaboration with the Health Department & DCHS to provide families with safety plans and trauma support for those who have felt the direct impacts of gun violence.

Funding from the American Rescue Plan (ARP) will continue funding for transporting of released justice-involved individuals (JIIs) from the Department of Corrections (DOC) or Multnomah County Sheriff's Office (MCSO) when they are released from an institution impacted by COVID-19. Transport will be from Voluntary Isolation Motels to Transitional housing and private residence. Additionally, transport will be provided for clients to access vaccines and follow up medical appointments. This program offer was funded in FY 2022 and due to continued need, is being requested again for FY 2023.

Program Summary

The transport of JIIs releasing from an institution impacted by COVID-19 to the Voluntary Isolation Motels (VIMo) has been a large obstacle over the past year. The Department of Corrections found some funding; however, this does not always apply to all releases and is scheduled to end soon. There is hopefully less of a need for this as COVID-19 numbers get lower within the institutions; however, we need to plan for the possibility additional outbreaks, which would require a specific transport process since these JIIs could not take public transportation. Additionally, transport from VIMo to Transitional housing, vaccine appointments and required medical appointments. Transportation will be provided by taxis and secure transport.

Funding from the American Rescue Plan (ARP) will provide direct client assistance to serve our women, children, mental health clients and domestic violence survivors. This program offer was funded in FY 2022 and due to continued need, is being requested again FY 2023.

Program Summary

The Women's and Family Unit (WFSU) has used and will continue to use these funds to assist families with childcare, gift cards and emergency assistance, approximately 300 current DCJ women and their families. Education Support will also continue to be provided as parents are struggling to meet the needs of their children's virtual education. There are various reasons for their struggle ranging from lack of skills and experience in home-schooling, lack of availability due to employment, and other barriers. These funds will be used to provide more and different types of assistance to include additional wrap-around services such as tutoring and online academies or other services to support the children's education, especially children who have special needs.

The Mental Health Unit (MHU) will continue to provide basic needs supplies to non-DCJ clients as well as justice-involved individuals (JIIs) such as blankets, socks, hygiene items, etc. These funds will support 5000 JIIs and extend outreach to Multnomah County community members.

The Victim and Survivor Services Fund provides temporary emergency assistance to victims/survivors through direct support related to a survivor's safety or the safety of their children and/or provides support to a survivor directly related to the impact of a crime or circumstance of a crime. The pandemic has caused an increase in domestic violence, gun violence, and has exacerbated gaps and barriers that survivors of all types of crime face. COVID-19 pandemic-related economic impacts have exacerbated factors associated with domestic violence (i.e. increased unemployment, stress associated with childcare and homeschooling, and an increase in financial insecurity) as well as gun violence. The pandemic has also resulted in increased isolation for survivors of domestic violence that has made it more difficult for them to access supports and safety. These funds will support 40 clients and their families in meeting their immediate needs.

Executive Summary

Funding from the American Rescue Plan (ARP) is establishing a pilot project that will provide gun violence intervention programming and support the development and capacity growth of smaller community organizations and partners to expand the outreach and efficacy of gun violence intervention programs. Work has begun to establish this program but due to continued need, is being requested again for FY 2023.

Program Summary

The goal of this program is to build the capacity of community based organizations with the necessary skills and experience to provide gun violence intervention programming centered around high-intensity life-coaching for individuals at the greatest risk of gun violence.

Multnomah County has seen a spike in gun violence since 2020, with nearly 900 shootings taking place in 2020 and 41 shooting-related deaths. The violent trend has continued into 2021, with the City of Portland alone reporting over 1200 shootings and 92 shooting-related deaths. The Department of Community Justice is looking to build capacity among community-based organizations, so they gain the necessary experience to provide gun violence intervention programming aimed at reducing the number of gun violence incidents in Multnomah County.

The Department of Community Justice (DCJ) is looking to build capacity among community-based organizations, so they gain the necessary experience to provide gun violence intervention programming aimed at reducing the number of gun violence incidents in Multnomah County.

DCJ is partnering with a community provider who will collaborate with community based organizations to provide the following services: intensive case management and life coaching for JIIs 18-25 years of age at a high risk of gun violence provided by trusted community members with relevant lived experience; positive gun violence intervention activities such as recreation out of school hours, youth grief/loss support groups, and decision-making skill-building opportunities; and training for subcontracted organizations on service delivery, nonprofit management, and staff wellness and resiliency. As of February 2022, three organizations have been selected to subcontract and will begin work in the community soon.
