Changing Your Name After Marriage

I've taken my spouse's name after our marriage. What do I do now? Where do I go?

Once the marriage ceremony has taken place and the license has been returned to our office, your name has changed to whatever you declared at the time of application. Now that your name has changed, you'll need to update your name on all of your identification, accounts and important documents.

Examples of agencies to change your name with and documents to update are:

- Driver's License
- Social Security
- Military
- Bank
- Passport
- Credit Cards
- Insurance
- Employer
- Mortgage Company
- Immigration
- Landlord
- Vehicle Registration

Most of these examples require a certified copy of your marriage license to update the information. Some agencies may keep a copy; others will hand it back to you.

You can purchase certified copies either in our office or request them by mail. Copies are $7.75 for the first one, $4.00 a piece for each additional.
